INFORMERS TO BE LIBERATED TODAY

Underworld Looks for Speedy Revenge on Rose, Webber and Vallon

SCHEPPS WILL GO FREE ALSO

Informers Go Before Coroner at 2 O'clock and District Attorney Will Present Stipulations Signed With Them

New York, Nov. 20.—It will be in broad daylight and not under cover of darkness as they had anxiously hoped, that "Bald Jack" Rose, "Bridge" Webber and Harry Vallon will be set at liberty, according to the programme for the release of the three informers against former Police Lieutenant Charles Becker and his four gunmen tools, so far as it could be learned today. Mid-afternoon tomorrow is the time tentatively set. The underworld has been waiting with interest and animation as to the time they will be free, for the feeling there has prevailed that the friends of the four gangsters were only awaiting the liberation of Rose, Webber and Vallon to take revenge upon the trio.

The three men will be brought at 2 o'clock tomorrow before Coroner Feinberg and District Attorney Whitman will present that official, it is said, stipulations signed by him with counsel for the witnesses. If Mr. Whitman declares that the three men have kept faith with the State in giving relevant testimony, the coroner will release them from commitment.

Sam Schepps, fourth of the State's valuable witnesses against Becker and the gunmen, probably will be released during daylight tomorrow. He is being held on a charge of vagrancy. William Shapiro, driver of the "murder car," will go free shortly. Mr. Whitman will move to have the indictment against Shapiro quashed in return for his testimony for the State. Rose, Vallon, Schepps, Webber and Shapiro spent today packing their effects anticipating release tonight. Schepps announced that he would return to Hot Springs, Ark., where he fled from this city after Rosenthal was murdered. The others did not talk of their immediate future, but their friends are expected to hurry them from town to escape peril of reprisals by followers of Rosenthal's slayers.

Mrs. Lillian Horowitz, wife of "Gyp the Blood," was brought today from the house of detention, where she had been held pending the gunmen's trial, and discharged from custody by Justice Goff. She wept while being arraigned.

An attempt will be made to bring Becker from Sing Sing prison to this city tomorrow or Friday to testify in the trials of Fabray McKinley, charged with robbery.

Sentence of death on the four gunmen convicted yesterday of murdering Rosenthal, will be pronounced by Justice Goff on November 26th. He so announced when the prisoners were arraigned before him today. After sentence is passed the men will be taken to Sing Sing, where former Police Lieutenant Becker is awaiting death.

JOHNSON ARRAIGNED TODAY.

Pugilist Must Enter Pleas to Five Indictments—Early Trial.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, under Federal indictment for alleged violations of the Mann Act, will be arraigned before Federal Judge Carpenter tomorrow morning. He will be called upon to enter pleas to each of five indictments recently returned against him charging that he caused the transportation of Bell Shreiber from Chicago to cities in other States for purposes prohibited by the Federal statute. An early trial will be sought by the government in the cases, it is expected.

An indictment against Johnson for the alleged smuggling of a diamond necklace for his late white wife, Ethel Duryea Johnson, who committed suicide, is held in abeyance. He will be tried on the nominal charge of violation of the Mann Act, also.

STR. NORENGA REPAIRED.

Leaves Newport News for Galveston, Was in Collision.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 20.—After having had 19 plates and a number of beams and frames renewed or practically a new bow constructed, the Norway-Mexico Gulf Line steamer Norenga, which was in collision with the full rigged ship Glenlu off Hatteras early this month, left the local shipyard today for Galveston.

The Glenlu, which also was badly damaged, has not yet completed repairs. The Norenga has been libelled by the owners of the sailing ship, claiming negligence on the part of those aboard the steamer.

INSPECTORS MAKE NATION-WIDE RAID

Nearly 200 Doctors and Drug Concerns Arrested for Misuse of Mails

DIRECTION OF HITCHCOCK

The Raid is Most Extensive Ever Undertaken by Government—Arrests Made Almost Simultaneously—Crusade.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A Nation-wide raid, involving the practically simultaneous arrests of 175 persons in the principal cities of the country, was made today by Postoffice Inspectors and United States marshals upon doctors and drug concerns, charged with misuse of the mails to solicit criminal medical practice or to dispose of medicines and instruments connected with such practice.

The raid—the most extensive and far-reaching ever made by any department of the government—was under the personal direction of Postmaster General Hitchcock and Chief Inspector Robert S. Sharp, of the Postoffice Department. So carefully had its details been guarded that until the details of the arrests were made at Indianapolis early in the day, practically nothing was known of the government's contemplated action. Working with clock-like precision, the inspection force, spread over 22 States, carried out the pre-arranged plans, and, at an early hour tonight the Postoffice Department had received word that nearly all of the designated persons had been arrested.

The results of the crusade are still being received tonight by the inspectors of the Postoffice Department in the form of dozens of telegrams from various divisional headquarters. In isolated instances it was found for various reasons to be impracticable to effect the arrests, but the suspected persons against whom warrants have been issued are under surveillance and probably will be unable to escape.

Chief Inspector Sharp and a large part of his force of 390 inspectors had been engaged for seven months, under the orders of the Postmaster General in working up the scores of individual cases in which arrests were made today. Many of those taken into custody were members of prominent wholesale and retail drug concerns, or physicians well known in their own communities.

The government will prosecute the cases vigorously, according to a statement by Postmaster General Hitchcock tonight.

"The work of the postoffice inspectors today is the culmination of the crusade instigated more than two years ago against the fraudulent and unlawful use of the mails," said Mr. Hitchcock. "In that comparatively brief time we have wiped out of existence concerns which have mulcted the people of this country out of more than $100,000,000 by frauds perpetrated through the use of the mails, and the courts have sent many of the promoters of the fraudulent schemes to the penitentiary, where they are now serving time. The wide publicity given to the arrests made today will do more to put an end to this particular form of criminality than any number of practically unknown prosecutions of widely separated cases."

ZARZA'S APPEAL HEARD.

Attache of Cuban Consulate Tried for Assault and Battery.

Newport News, Va., Nov. 20.—Senator Joseph J. Zarza, chancellor in the Cuban consulate here, was on trial in the corporation court today on his appeal from the decision of the police justice fining him $500 and sentencing him to three months in jail for an alleged assault and battery on Mrs. Charles Brown, wife of a shipyard draftsman, last month at her home in Norfolk. All of the evidence was concluded and the case will go to the jury tomorrow. Senator Jose Barranco, of the Cuban embassy at Washington, was a witness today, and he and George Burcher, a groceryman who went to the Brown home while Zarza was there, being the only new witnesses other than the prosecution. Mrs. Brown repeated today her story of the advances of Zarza and of how he kissed her three times and asked her to be his darling, and her story was unshaken during the vigorous cross examination of counsel. Toward the latter end of the practice the gates were opened and the student body, headed by a band, marched on the field and cheered the players. The open practice consisted wholly of punting. Pimpelly kicked a number of field goals from difficult angles.

In the secret practice the varsity scored two touchdowns. Pimpelly and Markle taking the ball.

BLUE PRACTICE BEHIND CLOSED GATES FOR HARVARD GAME SATURDAY.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 20.—Yale had a last hard scrimmage before the Harvard game behind closed gates at Yale Field this afternoon. Toward the latter end of the practice the gates were opened and the student body, headed by a band, marched on the field and cheered the players. The open practice consisted wholly of punting. Pimpelly kicked a number of field goals from difficult angles.

In the secret practice the varsity scored two touchdowns. Pimpelly and Markle taking the ball.

SIGNS OF LIFE AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

Members of Congress and Committees Prepare for Coming Session

TAFT BEGINS MESSAGE TODAY

The President Will Follow Plan Adopted Last Year of Incorporating His Recommendations in Separate Messages

Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—The first signs of activity for the coming session of Congress made their appearance about the capital and White House today. The House Committee on Banking and Currency met to plan a resumption of the "money trust" investigation, December 9th; members of the House Appropriation Committee began work on the annual supply bills for next year and President Taft, cancelling all engagements for the next two days, arranged to begin tomorrow the writing of his annual message to Congress.

It is understood the President will follow the plan adopted last year of dividing into separate messages his recommendations upon various subjects. The first message to be sent to Congress soon after it meets probably will be general in character, with particular attention given to the achievements of the year in relations with foreign countries. Subsequent messages will deal with financial affairs, anti-trust and railroad legislation, the army and navy and the proposed establishment of a budget system for the estimating of Federal appropriations. Secretary Knox took over to the President today some State Department data on foreign relations. The Congressional "money trust" committee after a conference in Chairman Pujos' rooms early in the day, determined to begin its hearing December 9th. The committee will endeavor speedily to clear up that branch of the inquiry dealing with the operations of stock exchanges and clearing house exchanges. Without additional powers conferred by Congress, it was unable to complete the inquiry into the "concentration of money and credits."

An amendment to the banking law, which has passed the House and is now before the Senate, would give the committee the power to obtain direct information which it deems indispensable from the National Banks. An attempt to secure this information from the Comptroller of the Currency has so far been unsuccessful.

Notwithstanding this embarrassment, Chairman Pujos said the committee would press forward in the taking of testimony.

MISS FARLEY GETS GRILLING

State House Typist Is Given Severe Cross-Examination

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Miss Cecilia Farley, the State House stenographer on trial for first degree murder of the shooting of Alvin E. Zollinger, could not be confused today in her story of how Zollinger was "accidentally shot" under the grilling cross-examination by Prosecuting Attorney Edwin C. Turner.

During the cross examination this afternoon the pretty witness showed her first signs of fatigue from the ordeal she had undergone. At one point when Prosecutor Turner's questions were unusually rapid, a short recess was taken to give the witness a rest. Miss Farley answered the prosecutor's questions in the same low voice and in the same calm manner in which she had told her story on direct examination.

Although she had been on the witness stand for two days, Miss Farley did not once contradict previous evidence she had given. She strenuously denied much of the testimony given by a woman detective who had been placed in an adjoining cell in the county jail, saying that some of it was "untrue" and other parts had been taken from the newspaper accounts of the case.

On being questioned the witness told of trips she had taken with Zollinger to Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Dayton and Louisville, and of how Zollinger wanted to accompany her to California. She testified that Zollinger wanted her to go with him by boat around "the horn."

She declared that she was afraid Zollinger would tell of her relations with him to her friends, and that because of such a fear she continued her relations with him. She said that Zollinger referred to Jerome Quigley, the man to whom she was engaged, as her "body guard," because he was with her so much of the time after their engagement.

Prosecutor Turner today stated that he probably would not stop cross-examination of Miss Farley until either late tomorrow afternoon or Friday.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 20.—Argument in the trial of Sidney Allen for the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massie was continued today and will be concluded tomorrow. The case is expected to go to the jury either tomorrow afternoon or Friday morning.

HURRICANE SWEEP JAMAICAN COAST

Two Important Towns Completely Wiped out by a Great Tidal Wave

NEARLY 50 PERSONS KILLED

Inc calculable Damage Done by Wind and Water—Wave Swept Quarter Mile Inland—Savannah La Mar and Lucea.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 20.—The western end of the island of Jamaica has been devastated by a hurricane lasting for five days. A great tidal wave has swept over both the north and south coasts, practically wiping out Savannah La Mar and Lucea, both towns of considerable importance. According to a report brought in by steamer, 45 persons were killed at Montego Bay.

All the roads have been wrecked along the southwestern coast and incalculable damage has been done. Communication between Kingston and the centre of destruction is not likely to be resumed for a week.

The latest reports indicate that the tidal wave swept over a quarter of a mile inland. The effects of the hurricane extended along the coast eastward to Black River, about 25 miles from Savannah La Mar, where the residential quarter was wrecked.

Kingston, Jamaica, Nov. 20.—A great tidal wave caused great damage to the town of Savannah La Mar, on the southwest coast of Lucea on the northwest coast of Jamaica.

Forty-two persons were killed by the hurricane in Montego Bay, according to a report brought by a fruit vessel which arrived at Port Antonio early this morning.

The observer of the meteorological station in the western part of the island sent the following report today: "The full force of the hurricane struck here. The observation was partly wrecked."

Late reports say that the entire wharf frontage at Montego Bay has been wrecked.

Loss of Life Reported. Boston, Mass., Nov. 20.—Loss of life in the recent storm in Jamaica was reported in a cablegram received today by the United Fruit Company from the captain of its steamer, Admiral Dewey, which had arrived at Port Antonio from the northwest coast. No estimate of the number of the persons killed or the value of property destroyed was made, however.

DR. GEO. A. GATES SUICIDES

Former Fiske University President Slashes Throat With Razor

Winter Park, Fla., Nov. 20.—Dr. George A. Gates, formerly president of Fiske University, at Nashville, Tenn., committed suicide here late last night, by slashing his throat with a razor.

Dr. Gates had been living here for several weeks. He was accompanied by his wife and a trained nurse. No cause for the act is known. Dr. Gates formerly was connected with Grinnell College, in Iowa, and was a graduate of Dartmouth.

Lynchburg, Va., Nov. 20.—The Lynchburg and Richmond High School football eleven will meet here next Wednesday for a game which will settle the Virginia high school championship for 1912.

Hamilton, Bermuda, Nov. 20.—"All statements about selections for the cabinet may be disregarded until I make the announcement myself," declared President-elect Wilson tonight when he was told of the reports published in the United States. Governor Wilson said he had not offered nor intimated an offer of position in his cabinet to anyone. William J. Bryan, not expected here during Mr. Wilson's stay. President-elect Wilson is thoroughly enjoying his sojourn here. He spends much of his time driving and exploring the islands.

THE CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE CONTINUE TRADE AUTONOMY

Various Standing Committees Make Report at Greensboro—Moral Reforms Needed—Other Proceedings.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 20.—Reports and recommendations of the various standing committees occupied the second day's work of the sessions of the North Carolina-Virginia Christian Conference, which convened in the Christian church here yesterday afternoon with an attendance of more than a hundred ministers and lay delegates and many visitors. Several additional delegates came in this morning and are in attendance at the business sessions today. Opening today's work devotional exercises were led by Rev. S. B. Klapp, following which the delegates were formally enrolled.

The report of the executive committee by Chairman J. W. Holt a report of large improvements in auxiliary organizations by President W. A. Harper, of Elon College, and a report on religious literature, in which it was shown that the church publications had made rapid strides in circulation and usefulness, by D. Jennings Sipe, together with an address by Rev. J. O. Atkinson, editor of the Christian Sun, completed the programme for the morning session. In the afternoon reports were again taken up, the committee on house missions, Christian Missionary association and other minor committee reports being heard. Discussion of these reports will be carried over until tomorrow.

Tonight an audience which taxed the capacity of the handsome and spacious Christian church here, gathered to hear the addresses by Prof. W. P. Lawrence and President W. A. Harper, both of Elon College, and by Rev. W. W. Staley, of Suffolk, Va. Prof. Lawrence's address dealt with the principles and government of the Christian church and was one of unusual interest and historical value.

"Religion and Education" was the theme of President Harper's splendid talk, while Mr. Staley chose as a subject "Christian Education," giving the foundation of the work and the essentials necessary if a Christian education is to be acquired.

The opening session of the conference yesterday afternoon was marked by the work incident to organization and the re-election of practically all the old officers, including Rev. J. W. Holt, of Burlington, as president, and Prof. W. P. Lawrence, of Elon College, as secretary.

The report of the committee on moral reform was presented by Rev. C. C. Peel. This report rejoiced in the moral progress of the Christian world, but felt that the necessity for aggressive opposition on the part of the church was necessary to rid the world of many evils. Hazing in colleges was condemned, the divorce evil was deplored, immodesty in dress was censured, cigarettes, slot machines, social gambling and kindred moral delinquencies were placed under the ban.

The report also recommended that only acknowledged Christian teachers be permitted to teach in the public schools and severely scored the provision of the laws whereby whiskey could be shipped into prohibition territory. During the discussion on the report by Mr. Peel a rather startling and sensational episode occurred when Prof. Lawrence, of Elon College, demanded proof by Mr. Klapp of a charge that the Greensboro Y. M. C. A. had become a gambling institution. Mr. Klapp explained that he based his statement on a current report that pool and billiard games were being played in the Y. M. C. A. building.

A. were played by the participants for money. Later Mr. Klapp withdrew his charge, the episode bringing forth many expressions of confidence in the Y. M. C. A. by the members of the conference to the effect that the institution is a force for social uplift.

The conference gave its endorsement to the work of the child labor organization of the State after hearing an address by W. H. Swift, State organizer.

DIPLOMACY TAKES HAND IN THE WAR

Envoys of Belligerent Powers Will Meet Today to Arrange for Peace

CHRISTIANS ARE MASSACRED

Report Reaches Athens That Christians in Jaffa Have Been Massacred—Fear Felt for Safety of the Americans.

London, Nov. 20.—The Turkish-Balkan war has shifted for a time from the field of arms to that of diplomacy. It is believed that the war is near to an end. Plenipotentiaries for the belligerent powers will meet tomorrow at the Vlemek, a few miles outside the capital, for the preliminary discussion.

How many vestiges of former Turkish power they are prepared to concede depends largely upon two factors, the strength and supplies of the allied forces threatening attack at the gates of Constantinople and the extent to which the cholera has undermined their plans.

Christians Reported Massacred. Athens, Nov. 20.—Reports of massacres of Christians in Jaffa, Palestine, caused the commander of the Russian cruiser Oleg, to weigh anchor and depart hurriedly for that district today.

Five Christian missionary societies are represented in Jaffa, Palestine. The Christian and Missionary Alliance has a station with one man, the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East two men and two women, the London Society for the Promotion of Christianity among the Jews two men and two women, the Seventh Day Adventist's Missionary Board, one man and one woman, and the Tabetha Mission School four women. There is also an American orphanage.

There are supposed to be about 10,000 Christians among the inhabitants, the total of whom is estimated at about 40,000. There are eight Christian churches and four Jewish synagogues. There is an English hospital and a French hospital.

Massacre Alarms Americans. Washington, Nov. 20.—Although without confirmation of the reported massacre of Christians in the neighborhood of Jaffa, the United States government officials here admit they have been apprehensive of such troubles on the Syrian coast, where the religious differences between the Mohammedans and the Christians are more pronounced than in any other part of the Turkish empire.

American interests in that quarter are large, owing to the extensive fruit trade, and because of a large number of American missionary and educational institutions. Within 20 miles of Jaffa, which is the port of Jerusalem, are American missionary stations, Tavilyeh, Ramallah and Ain Arek.

There is also a large Jewish population, but so far it is not known that they have been disturbed by the Turks or Arabs, whose ill-feeling against the Christians has been directed solely against the Christians.

Two foreign warships have been lying at Beirut, about 150 miles north of Jaffa and presumably one of these has been dispatched to the latter port. Rear Admiral Knight, on the armored cruiser Tennessee, is now speeding directly for Beirut. His ship is due at Gibraltar tomorrow, but it will require almost a week's time for the cruiser to take on coal and traverse the length of the Mediterranean to the Syrian coast.

The State Department had been congratulating itself upon the immunity of American interests from injury during the present war. Today a cablegram was received from the American consul at Saloniki, in the very center of the field of war, reporting that American interests at Cavalla, which is now occupied by Bulgarian regulars, are safe.

CHARLES HYDE ON TRIAL.

Jury Secured to Hear Bribery Charges Against Former Chamberlain.

New York, Nov. 20.—A jury for the long delayed trial of former city chamberlain, Charles H. Hyde, on charges of bribery in connection with the Carnegie Trust Company financial scandals, nearly two years ago, was completed at the opening sessions of the trial today.

Judge John W. Coe started the trial with all the dispatch which characterized his conduct of the trials of former Police Lieut. Charles Becker and the four gunmen who were convicted of the murder of Herman Rosenthal, the "squealing gambler," and only four hours were consumed in filing the jury box.

The charge against Hyde is that while city chamberlain, he forced Joseph G. Robin, of the Northern Bank, to loan $130,000 to the Carnegie Trust Company, which was then close to disaster. It is alleged Hyde promised that if the loan were made he would increase the city funds on deposit with the Northern Bank.

New York, Nov. 20.—Willie Hoppe retained his title as champion at 13.2 ball-line billiards by defeating Ora Morningstar in the final game of the championship tournament here tonight, by the score of 500 to 276.

..Theatrical..

Milton and Sargent Aborn's Parisian version of Balfe's "Bohemian Girl" was well received by two fair-sized audiences at the Academy of Music yesterday, matinee and night. The production was an improvement over last season's as presented here and a special orchestra added considerably to the rendition of the score.

The cast of principals, which included Helena Morrill as "Arline", Nell Brown, as the Gypsy Queen; Geo. Tillman as "Thaddeus"; Wilmet C. Goodwin as "Count Arnheim"; Detmar H. Popplin, as "Devilshoof"; and Stephen Stott, as "Count Florentine", was up to the standard of the chorus and corps de ballet were large and well drilled.

Realism was lent to some of the scenes by the introduction of horses, monkeys, geese, pigs, dogs, etc., and the performance of the whirlwind troupe of acrobats in the fair scene bore out the producer's character of "marvelous". This seeming incongruity in the opera was easily the feature of the production.

Bernhardt in Pictures. The Academy of Music for four days next week, commencing Monday, will make an exceptional offering in the Bernhardt in moving pictures. It will be a most pretentious exhibition, especially as it comes under the management of Mr. Daniel Frohman. Of this attraction the Brooklyn Times recently said:

"The photo play, 'Queen Elizabeth', enacted by the greatest of all living actresses, Sarah Bernhardt, was given last evening at the Shubert Theatre. It was an event in moving picture development. The great actress seemed to walk before the audience and scenes of history were presented before the eyes as they occurred at the time of the great Queen. It was both interesting and instructive."

The attraction will, no doubt, draw large audiences to the Academy, particularly as it is a rare treat to see Bernhardt. Many Wilmington theatre-goers have likely never seen the famed actress, and will eagerly embrace the opportunity to see her in moving pictures. She appears precisely like she does on the stage, in the biggest productions, save as to talking, of course.

A low scale of prices will prevail for both matinee and night performances.

Costello at the Bijou. Yes, four more big films on at the popular Bijou today. They come in droves to this amusement palace do both films and people, and the former are decidedly delightful, while the latter are immensely delighted. A quartette of the freshest, the best, the most expensive and the rarest photoplays are slated to transpire at the Bijou today, and will be presented in the usual superb manner of the Bijou, while the onlookers are surrounded by the many solid comforts and ways of the theatre.

The most startling of all films leads today in "Saved by Fire". It is the story of a young oil operator's struggle against the machinations of a crafty loan shark. He is eventually saved by the burning of his oil tanks, which is a thrilling incident of the film.

"The Pony Express Girl" is a hot second for dramatic honors today, and presents, as one of its exciting scenes, the darling hold up of the pony express rider, and the rescue made by his sweetheart, who is a courageous, daring Western lassie.

Fun is not going to be missed by any means today at the Bijou. It will be served in his chunks, led by "Stenographer Wanted". Both father and son, forming the business firm, fall in love with the stenographer and try to marry her. However, the stenographer is already married, and the laugh is on father and son.

A big comedy drama is also a star today in "Lulu's Doctor." It tells a beautiful story, wherein two lovers wander apart and are finally brought together by a little child, who goes into the prosperous physician's office to have her doll's broken arm mended. Don't miss today's big offering at the Bijou; that is, if you love whole some joy, Costello, the doctor.

Big Day at the Grand Today will be another notable one at the popular Grand Theatre and besides a high-class offering in moving pictures, Mr. Chick will sing "Gee! But I'm Lonesome," the big Boston hit. It is a semi-rag novelty song and is said to be brand new in the South. Mr. Chick should be heard in this number.

In the movies there is a strong feature in a Lubin of "The Country School Teacher." Molly Mason is the central figure in this great film and the story is told of how at last she is overcome and makes the model pupil and at length the model wife. It is a great picture and is well portrayed in this great film. The other feature today is a Selig, "Old Songs and Memories." This film is a vivid visualization of pleasant reminiscences of an aged couple who again see the scenes of their youth, as a party of visiting young folks sing the songs of long ago. Besides these two big feature pictures there is still a third and it must be remembered that at the Grand the pictures are given with full orchestra accompaniment and with all realistic effects. The Grand is growing in popular favor in Wilmington and at the small prices charged there is no better entertainment afforded anywhere.

There ought to be a great deal of satisfaction in being good, for it cuts you out of a lot of fun.

SHORT SESSION YESTERDAY.

Regular Meeting of City Council Was of Little Interest.

Probably the most unimportant regular session of City Council ever held was that yesterday morning. The meeting lasted less than 15 minutes and only two matters were brought to the attention of the body. Mayor Smith presided, and all members were in attendance except Councilman B. C. Moore, who had not at that time returned from Winston-Salem where he went with City Engineer Elliot, to appear before Col. J. L. Ludlow, engineer of the State Board of Health, relative to the plans for extensions of the sewerage system. Col. C. H. White, tax collector, acted as clerk in the absence from the city of Capt. Thos. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer.

Mr. N. Royal, general manager of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Co., made formal application to the body for permission to change the position of the railroad's side track on the curve at Water and Dock streets a few inches so as to give cars room for turning.

The siding goes up to the plant of the Wilmington Ice & Storage Co. The matter was referred to the city attorney and the city engineer.

BOUGHT VALUABLE PROPERTY

Mr. J. M. Solky Acquires Lot in Rear Of His Theatre

Through the real estate agency of the A. W. Pate Company, Mr. J. M. Solky yesterday purchased from Mr. O. A. Schuster and Mrs. Bertha Zoeller the lot next west on Princess street to the store building on the southwest corner of Front and Princess streets. The property has a frontage on Princess street of 19 1/2 feet and runs back to Ewing's alley, a distance of about 100 feet. It is just in the rear of the Grand Theatre, which is owned by Mr. Solky. His purpose, it is said, in acquiring the property is to enlarge and otherwise improve the theatre. After he has utilized as much as he needs for the theatre he will still have remaining of the property a fairly good sized lot on Princess street. The consideration was about $9,000. The deal was engineered by Mr. Joseph J. Loughlin.

WESTERN CONFERENCE OPENS.

Grave Charges Filed Against High Point and Mt. Airy Pastors.

High Point, N. C., Nov. 20.—At the opening session of the 23rd annual conference of the Western North Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, with Bishop Collins Denny presiding, grave charges were filed by Presiding Elders against Rev. G. E. Eaves, of High Point, and Rev. B. M. Jackson, of Mount Airy. Jackson is accused of immoral conduct and Eaves with leaving his charge without permission and having in his possession certain funds of the church amounting to, it is alleged, between $75 and $100. There are approximately 300 delegates present, representing a conference church membership of practically 100,000 people. Discussion of infant baptism and opposition to this Methodist doctrine were entered into during the day's session, but no formal debate was had and no action taken.

UNITED STATES COURT

Verdict for Defendant in Case of Evans vs. Waccamaw Lumber Co.

The case of E. A. Evans, administrator, against the Waccamaw Lumber Co., taken up in United States Court Tuesday afternoon, came to a rather sudden end yesterday, when after the plaintiff had closed its case Judge Connor, upon motion of the defendant's counsel, instructed the jury to return a verdict in favor of the defendant company. The plaintiff was suing for $20,000. John D. Bellamy & Son, of this city, and D. MacRacken, Esq., of Whiteville, represented the plaintiff, while Robt. Ruark, Esq., of this city, appeared for the company.

In the case of J. W. Watterson, administrator, against the Waccamaw Lumber Co., judgment for dismissal was given by default. Court adjourned shortly after 2 o'clock until 10 o'clock this morning.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS.

—N. A. Sinclair, Esq., of Fayetteville, spent last night in the city.

—Dr. Edward Jenner Wood left yesterday for Morven, N. C., where he spent the day on a professional visit.

—K. C. Sidbury, Esq., and Dr. J. W. Powell returned yesterday from New York city, where they have been for the past two weeks aiding the New York police in running down the wire-less wire-tappers who switched them out of about $25,000 a few weeks ago.

LOCAL DOTS.

—There was only one case on the Recorder's court docket ready for trial yesterday. This was against William Hawes, colored, charged with disorderly conduct, and the prosecution took a nol pro.

—A quantity of jewelry, including a number of valuable rings, a neck chain, etc., valued at several hundred dollars, was stolen Tuesday afternoon from the residence of Rev. F. B. Clausen, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church, while members of the family were away from home. The police are at work on the case.

JUNIORS TO CELEBRATE

Joint Smoker to Members and Reception to Daughters of Liberty

A most interesting meeting of the Jr. O. U. A. M., of this city, comprising George Washington Council No. 67, and Jeff Davis Council No. 63, will be held tonight at 8 o'clock at their hall on Front street between Market and Dock. The occasion will be a joint smoker to the members of the two councils and visiting Juniors and a reception to the Daughters of Liberty, the auxiliary ladies' lodge of the Jr. O. U. A. M.

It is expected that a large number will be in attendance upon this meeting, and some good talks by well-informed Juniors and other speakers will be made. No doubt the occasion will be a most enjoyable one. The Junior Order in this city is in a flourishing condition and the two councils now have a membership of nearly six hundred. All members of the councils and of the Daughters of Liberty are cordially invited to be present tonight.

Home Face Peeling Becomes Popular

(From Fashion Reporter.)

No complexion treatment yet discovered seems to have become so generally and so immediately popular as the mercolized wax process. Evidently the reason for this is that this method actually gets rid of a bad complexion, which can hardly be said of any other. To temporarily hide or bleach the defective skin with cosmetics, cannot compare with the effect of literally removing the skin itself. Mercolized wax takes off the offending surface skin in flake-like particles, a little at a time, until there's none of it left. The new complexion thus produced exhibits a healthy glow and girlish beauty obtainable in no other way. This wax, which you can get at your druggist's, is applied at night in the same way you use cold cream, and washed off next morning.

Here is the only thing I know of that actually does remove wrinkles, remove them quickly, and at trifling cost: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in 1-2 pt. witch hazel. Use as a face bath.

DIED OF STRANGULATION.

Compression on Throat Killed Mrs. Szabo, Physician Testifies.

Goshen, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Dr. George King, official physician of Hudson county, N. J., testified for the State today in the trial of Burton W. Gibson, the New York lawyer, for the murder of Mrs. Rosa Menschik Szabo, that Mrs. Szabo met death in Greenwood Lake July 16th, last from strangulation and no other cause. Of this he was positive, he said. He was equally sure, he continued, that strangulation was caused by compression on the throat above the Adam's apple.

Early in the day John Minturn, an eye witness of the tragedy, swore that he saw Gibson place one arm around her neck and thrust his hand to her throat. This was while Gibson and the woman were in the boat 700 yards from the shore. They both fell out, Minturn said, and Gibson swam to the boat, overturned it and then apparently tried to pull the shirt of his bathing suit over his head. The defense maintains that the drowning woman tore the shirt from Gibson's back.

Four clerks from one banking institution testified that in three weeks after the tragedy Gibson as Mrs. Szabo's executor, had withdrawn her bank deposits amounting to $7,397. A clerk from another bank said Gibson had tried in vain three times to obtain $3,052 on deposit in Mrs. Szabo's name in the bank where he was employed. This witness said Gibson told him Mrs. Szabo had died of kidney disease and heart trouble.

The State probably will rest tomorrow.

CAR SHORTAGE PROBLEM.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The car shortage problem will be dealt with immediately by a committee of the American Railway Association. K-r-i-t Value and K-r-i-t Service Mean Profit for Dealer and Owner Alike

K-r-i-t cars are a great "buy."

That statement is good in two directions. It applies to both the dealer and to the ultimate purchaser.

K-r-i-t character and the confidence the public has in K-r-i-t product, gain for the dealer a position in the trade and a prestige that no other car of this class could win for him. His standing is assured. His reputation is made.

The K-r-i-t purchaser enjoys a similar fortune. He gets full value for his money. He is not paying several profits, because all the essential parts of the K-r-i-t are made within the K-r-i-t organization, giving to dealer and buyer the profit that usually goes to the parts manufacturer in the assembled cars.

Therefore, if it's a K-r-i-t the World has come to understand that it is the biggest $900 worth this automobile era has ever known.

The prime factors in this situation are K-r-i-t Character, K-r-i-t Quality and K-r-i-t Success. They build up the dealer's reputation and give confidence to the buyer.

A dealer must be identified with cars of character, else his career is limited. If he expects to stay in business, he must sell cars next year as well as this.

That is why he finds the K-r-i-t his best investment. It gives permanence to his business and ever-increasing profits. It is, therefore, the logical car for you—the only car.

When you select the K-r-i-t you have a great and loyal organization behind you—an organization that backs up every car with a guarantee for a year. The proposition is as stable and as staunch as the car itself.

Moreover, back of the car, back of the purchaser and the dealer, is the K-r-i-t service which thousands of satisfied car owners have tested and proved.

The K-r-i-t motor, clutch and transmission are a unit. Among the new features are a greatly improved oiling system, with a reservoir of a gallon capacity at the bottom of the crank case, and an efficient sight oil feed on the dash.

There are Prest-O-Lite tanks on all models. At the option of the purchaser we will furnish a gas generator and a No. 26 Stewart Speedometer instead of a Prest-O-Lite tank; or for $10 additional a complete electric lighting plant, including five lamps and 100-hour storage battery.

On all models the bright parts are nickel and black enamel.

FUNERAL OF WRECK VICTIMS

Double Funeral in Raleigh Over the Wreck Victims—Several Characters Issued—Walter Way Pardoned—Other Notes

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 20.—This afternoon at 3:30 o'clock hundreds of people joined in paying the last and tribute of respect to the two honored engineers who lost their lives in the head-on collision between two of the Seaboard Air Line's finest trains, Nos. 81 and 84, north of Norfolk yesterday morning—William A. Faison and Cornelius H. Beckham.

It was a joint funeral conducted from the Edenton Street Methodist Church, of which both were members. The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers attended in a body in honor of both. Also the Masons attended in honor of Engineer Faison and the Odd Fellows for Engineer Beckham. It was a sad service and very numerous and beautiful floral tributes attested the great popularity of the two men who were counted among the most capable and trusted engineers in the Seaboard service.

This morning the remains of Express Messenger J. R. Rountree were shipped to Swansboro, Ga., the place of his birth, for burial. He was terribly injured in the Seaboard wreck yesterday morning and died in Rex Hospital here last night.

A charter was issued today for The Salisbury Banking and Trust Co., capital $100,000 authorized and $25,000 subscribed by Thomas J. Jerome, C. S. Remms and others for a general and savings banking business. Another charter is for The Independent Publishing Co., of Greenville, capital $25,000 by S. T. Hooker, J. F. Brinkley and others, for newspaper and job printing business.

Governor Kitchin announced two pardons today. One is for Walter Way, of Wilmington, who has served since July, 1910, on a five-year sentence for manslaughter. The pardon is conditioned on good behavior and is on recommendation of trial judge, solicitor and others. Way knocked his victim down while quarreling with him and in falling struck his head against the curb, causing his death. Way is to resume his position as fireman with the hotel, a place he held when the killing occurred.

The other pardon is for Wees Bass, of Randolph county, serving three years for larceny. He has developed pellagra from which it is believed he cannot possibly recover. The pardon is conditioned on good behavior.

DRAINAGE CONVENTION

State Association to Meet in Raleigh Next Week—Speakers

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 20.—The fifth annual convention of the North Carolina Drainage Association is to be held in Raleigh Tuesday and Wednesday, November 26th and 27th, and will be a convention of much interest to all the progressive citizens of the State. Since the passage of the North Carolina drainage law, over sixty drainage districts have been organized in eastern, piedmont and western North Carolina covering an area of approximately 900,000 acres. This represents probably the most fertile land in North Carolina, including, as it does, the swamp lands of the coastal plain and the overflowed creek and river bottoms of the piedmont section. When reclaimed, the agricultural possibilities of these lands are enormous, and the better health conditions which will result will undoubtedly make the sections drained a hundred fold more attractive to the settler or the immigrant. Consequently the importance of this work can not be overestimated, in view of the fact that it gives to the State this large acreage of wonderfully fertile land, and makes large sections of the State more desirable as places of residence.

An interesting feature of the convention will be illustrated lectures on the afternoon of the 27th, one by a representative of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours Powder Company, showing the uses of powder in drainage and agricultural work, and another by a drainage engineer from the U. S. office of Drainage Investigations, who has most interesting slides showing processes of drainage.

It is also of interest to note that Hon. John H. Small, congressman from the First district, and Hon. H. L. Godwin, congressman from the Sixth district, will make addresses on this occasion.

All citizens of the State interested in this work are cordially invited to attend the convention and take part in its proceedings.

BOOSTERS AT DURHAM.

Philadelphia Men Are Given Welcome in Bull City.

(Special Star Telegram.)
Durham, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Philadelphia Boosters arrived in Durham tonight at 8:15. They were met at the station by delegations of business and professional men of the city and escorted to the Elks' Club rooms, where they were tendered an informal reception by the Commercial Club and the Merchants' Association. The Philadelphia gentlemen were given an address of welcome by Major Brogren, after which short and witty speeches were delivered by Mr. J. H. Southgate, Gen. Julian S. Carr and Victor S. Bryant. The Boosters train leaves Durham about 12:05 tonight. From here they go to Greensboro, then to High Point, Salisbury, Concord, Charlotte and Winston-Salem. Friday they will go to Danville, stop off at Lynchburg, and then back to Philadelphia.

FIRE AMONG CONGREGATION

Thrilling Experience of Holiness People at Durham—Lady Injured

(Special Star Correspondence.)
Durham, N. C., Nov. 20.—A fire which had its origin in the explosion of a kerosene lamp in the hall of the Holiness people, a sect of religious people thriving in the Edgemont section of this city, resulted in the injury of about twenty people and the loss of considerable property last night. The hall was located on the second floor of a grocery store occupied by Norwood Bros., and almost the entire stock of the store was destroyed.

The Holiness people were holding the first meeting of the State convention of their sect which was to meet here for the coming week, when the fire started and spread so rapidly that about 15 or 20 members of the congregation were badly burned, cut by flying glass and otherwise injured before a safe exit could be made from the burning building. There are two tales current accounting for the origin of the blaze. One is that the congregation were indulging in one of their mystic ritual dances when one of the party overturned the lamp; the other and more probable story is that one of the men, Mr. Judd Pope, arose from his seat, which was immediately under the swinging lamp, to give a lady a seat, and struck his head against the low-hanging lamp which immediately toppled over, spraying oil over a wide space of the floor and saturating the clothing of several women nearby. The fire once started spread with furious rapidity, and blocked the way to the narrow stair leading to the ground floor. The women became panic-stricken and many of them hurled themselves headlong from the windows to the rough ground below. Many, however, kept their presence of mind and were helped down by men on the outside. Among those who jumped from the burning building was Mrs. Judd Pope. She sprang out of a window and struck her head with considerable force against a fence below. As a result she is dangerously wounded in the city hospital, whether she was hastened. Others who received severe injuries are J. J. King, whose hands were badly burned; Amos Brady, a missionary from Central America, burned about the face and hands; Rev. H. R. Martin, of Mayo, badly blistered about the face and head; Miss Etta Briley and Mrs. A. L. Higgins, severely burned and bruised, and many others more or less injured. While the fire was raging, the crowd of excited worshippers rushed about through the streets screaming and uttering piercing shrieks. The crowd seemed perfectly bereft of reason, and the air was filled with their weird lamentations. It is reported that they went about from home to home of members of the congregation and worked off part of their excitement in dancing and screaming, breaking up furniture and doors and acting like lunatics generally.

The sect is a comparatively new one in this city, and weird stories are told of their display of emotion at their meetings, of their mystic dances, and prayers in unknown tongues.

The financial loss to the congregation amounts to something like $100, which represents the amount recently paid for benches installed in the hall. Besides this, many hats, coats and other wearing apparel were lost in the wild melee in getting out of the burning building. The biggest loss by far comes to the Farthing estate, owners of the building, and to Norris Bros., who lost almost their entire stock of goods, either by fire or water. In addition to this building, two adjoining buildings were considerably damaged. The total loss amounts to about $5,000, it is estimated.

Durham people are considerably stirred on account of the unsatisfactory water supply of the city. Something is wrong with the filtering department at the city reservoir on Eno river about six miles west of the city, and all the water the people are able to get is just as muddy and impure as that in the river. This same condition has existed for several days and the people are getting highly wrought up over it. Capt. Michie, head of the water department, declares that work is being done on the filtering plant as quickly as possible and nothing else can be done. Meantime, the citizens are compelled to boil all water they use, or take chances and use the raw river water.

Miss Lella Byrd, a young lady of East Durham, was struck and knocked down yesterday afternoon by an automobile driven by Mr. Will Carr. The accident occurred just in front of the new store occupied by the Kress Co. Miss Byrd was crossing the street when the machine approached at very slow speed and struck her before she could get out of the way or the chauffeur could entirely stop the machine. The accident was not serious, though Miss Byrd was quite painfully hurt. She was hurried home, where a physician attended her, and stated that the worst effects of the accident was the shock received by the young lady.

10,000 TURKS FELL AT MONASTIR
Serbians Also Captured Many Guns and Stores
Belgrade, Serbia, Nov. 19.—The Turkish army during the three days' fighting prior to the fall of Monastir before the attack of the Serbian troops are reported to have reached 10,000.

Great quantities of modern field guns, rifles and supplies fell into the hands of the Serbians. The Serbian government considers that with the fall of Monastir the work of the Serbian armies in Macedonia can be regarded as complete. In exactly one month they have swept the Turks from the whole of old Serbia and have captured booty worth many millions.

King Peter, of Serbia, will make a triumphal entry into Monastir in a few days. The decoration of the streets to welcome him has begun already.

COMMISSIONERS INDICTED

Rockingham County Board Failed to Carry Out Jury's Orders—Fire

Greensboro, N. C., Nov. 20.—The entire board of commissioners of Rockingham county have been indicted for failure to carry out the recommendations of the grand jury and upon instruction of Judge O. H. Allen, according to a story which was brought here by a well-known Rockingham attorney today. It seems that in Rockingham the county commissioners have several times ignored the recommendations of the grand jury and that in July last, the grand jury specifically ordered the building of a new county home, reporting that the present structure was "a disgrace to a civilized community." The commissioners, it is said, paid no heed to the order with the result that at the term of court closing Saturday Judge Allen ordered Solicitor Graves to draw process against every member of the board. At the same term of court 15 true bills were returned by the grand jury against Commissioner J. R. Pratt, charging retarding and soliciting orders for whiskey. It is said that Commissioner Pratt was interested in a distillery operated across the Virginia line and the charges are that he took orders for the delivery of whiskey.

Fire of unknown origin at Graham early yesterday morning completely destroyed the Methodist church of that place, the loss being estimated at about $5,000. It could not be ascertained whether any insurance was carried. The fire was discovered about 1 o'clock this morning and at that time the roof of the building was falling in. A theory is that the fire caught from defective wiring in the cupola of the church.

STEEL TRUST HEARING

Dr. Walker Cross-Examined in Regard To His Price Table

Washington, Nov. 20.—The fact that price tables used as the basis for the Bureau of Corporations' reports and now offered in evidence at the examiner's hearings in the Federal government's suit for the dissolution of the United States Steel Corporation, were compiled from a trade journal, was made the gist of the cross-examination today of Dr. Frances Walker, deputy commissioner of corporations, before Examiner Henry P. Brown.

In response to questions by R. V. Lindabury, of counsel for the Steel Corporation, Dr. Walker testified that it would have been a stupendous task to have collated the prices from figures sent to the bureau by manufacturers, because of variation in the specification of the products sold. He said that where his tables showed prices were constant and therefore, in his judgment, there was a lack of competition, the real prices were not "absolutely" constant.

Under cross-examination the witness testified that the price of South-western foundry iron was higher before the Tennessee Iron and Coal Company was taken over by the Steel Corporation than that it had been at any time since.

Early in the day J. W. Dickinson, the counsel for the government, succeeded in getting into the record testimony objected to yesterday, to the effect that the prices of steel products before date of the organization of the Steel Corporation were lower than they had been from time down to 1909. He did not, however, have the witness refer directly to the organization.

The Best Cough Syrup is Easily Made at Home

Costs Little and Acts Quickly. Money Refunded if It Fails.

This recipe makes a pint of cough syrup, and saves you about $2.00 as compared with ordinary cough remedies. It stops obstinate coughs—even whooping cough—in a hurry, and is splendid for sore throats, asthma, croup, hoarseness and other throat troubles.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 3/4 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, and add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours. Tastes Good.

This takes right hold of a cough and gives almost instant relief. It stimulates the appetite, and is slightly laxative—both excellent features. Pinex, as perhaps you know, is the most valuable compound of Norway white pine extract, rich in quinine and the other natural healing pine elements.

No other preparation will do the work of Pinex in this recipe, although strained honey can be used instead of the sugar syrup, if desired.

Thousands of housewives in the United States and Canada have tried this Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe. This plan has often been imitated, but the old successful formula has never been equalled. Its low cost and quick results have made it immensely popular.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex, or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind. (Advertisement.)

MANUFACTURING TERMINALS

The ports are beginning to appreciate the advantages of combined water, river and rail transportation for manufacturing as well as commerce. Years ago The Star emphasized the economic advantages of having water commerce to reach railroad terminals and of having railroad traffic to reach water terminals and be loaded directly into ships. The Star also has exploited the advantage of harbor terminals and a manufacturing scheme combined, and now it is being recognized throughout this country that cities with ocean commerce and rail transportation possess offset ideal adaptabilities for manufacturing.

It is curious how some cities have some peculiar advantages to effect those of other cities. The Piedmont cities of North Carolina have the great advantage of hydro-electric power for manufacturing. If they are not at the mercy of the power companies, it is a tremendous advantage, but when a city has electrical power and also the railroad facilities to make it a good distributing point, it has double advantages as a manufacturing center.

Charlotte, for instance, has this double advantage of power and rail facilities, and added to them is a geographic position that has made North Carolina's Queen City the center of the South's cotton milling industry. It is inevitable, therefore, that Charlotte is destined to be one of the South's greatest industrial cities. She already is of transcendent importance as a manufacturing center, and her importance is such that she is bound to increase her potentialities for further development. For instance, she is bound to become a greater railroad center, for her geographic position and industrial lead are sufficient invitations to make her the objective point of the great railroad systems that are linking up with the greater producing centers of the rapidly developing South.

We drifted in that direction to emphasize the natural advantages of Charlotte as a North Carolina manufacturing city, but there are others. However, Charlotte enables us, by comparison, to point out the peculiar advantages of Wilmington for manufacturing. What Wilmington lacks in electric power, she has in her splendid combination of ocean, river and rail transportation, and her geographic position, all powerful elements in making Wilmington the premier distributing port of the South Atlantic. These same potentialities also combine to make Wilmington North Carolina's ideal center for diversified manufacturing industries. Cheap transportation by water and rail from the coal fields assures her coal for power, and it is yet a disputed point among manufacturers whether coal derived power or hydro-electric power by costly transmission is the cheaper. However that may be, the combined commercial and manufacturing advantages of this ocean gateway make the matter of power one of secondary consequence. We do not detract from the peculiar advantages of any other city, but in pointing out those of other cities our purpose is to show that Wilmington has equally peculiar advantages as a manufacturing center.

Don't let us forget that transportation and distribution are the most powerful items in the adaptabilities of a city for either commerce or manufacturing, and that Wilmington has these in her ocean, river and rail highways for traffic, inland or outward bound. The one thing necessary is to take advantage of these powerful facilities, as other cities in this country and Europe are doing. As an illustration of the superior advantages of the water front for manufacturing, we recently called attention to the rapid development of manufacturing terminals on the harbor front at Brooklyn, New York, where a combined commercial and manufacturing scheme is attracting the attention of the world. At Montreal, Canada, a company has been organized to establish a manufacturing terminal at a cost of $7,000,000. It will combine manufacturing and commerce, and the system will embrace wharves, piers, warehouses, factories, and all the modern facilities for loading directly on ocean-going steamers or outgoing freight trains, and vice versa. Who can dispute the tremendous manufacturing and commercial facilities that will thus be possessed by the great Canadian city?

Montreal is in a cold country where navigation is blocked by freezing three or four months of the year, while at Wilmington we have open navigation the year round. Wilmington is closer to the ocean than is Montreal and we have all the advantages of that city with the tremendous advantage of climate besides. What Wilmington needs, however, are the facilities with which to realize upon her advantages. One of the most attractive propositions for capital is a manufacturing terminal at Wilmington, with wharves, piers and warehouses on the harbor, and an area back of them for manufacturing. Where the railroads and ocean navigation meet, and there are modern devices for economic loading and unloading, the matter of transportation and distribution becomes a powerful advantage for commerce and manufacturing—two in one.

It is useless to mention that the opening of the Panama canal more potently emphasizes the matchless adaptabilities of Wilmington that are embraced in the physical and geographic advantages to which we have referred. A distributing territory extending into several States caps the climax. Why hesitate on the threshold of opportunity?

TALKING RAILROAD

Charlotte hopes and expects to be tapped by the Atlantic Coast Line, and the same can be said of Raleigh. Our esteemed contemporaries of those cities are talking Coast Line in an earnest way these days, because of some significant rumors about the Coast Line's building from Raleigh by way of Pinehurst and Wadesboro to Charlotte. Meanwhile that rumor stirs up the ancient desire of Raleigh to have herself reached by the Coast Line through a continuation of the road from Rocky Mount by way of Spring Hope and Bunn. This railroad talk is exceedingly interesting, and the Raleigh News and Observer of yesterday adds this bit of editorial reference to it:

"For a long time the Atlantic Coast Line's railroad from Rocky Mount toward Raleigh, after it was extended from Spring Hope, was adjourned sine die in a corn field. Later it was extended a few miles further toward Raleigh, and its terminus is at the growing little town of Bunn. How long it is to remain there when, by building on to Raleigh, it could obtain a large business now denied it? The Rocky Mount Telegram of yesterday says:

"There is some little talk of the Atlantic Coast Line getting into Charlotte by way of Wadesboro from Fayetteville. While there are lots of us that would like to see this extension yet there are others that would like to see the Atlantic Coast Line into Raleigh by way of Bunn and Spring Hope."

"The people of Raleigh are anxious to welcome the big railroad system to the capital city of the State. Why not make the cry 'on to Raleigh,' Messrs. Owners of the Atlantic Coast Line?"

Raleigh and Charlotte may as well make up their minds to be on a Coast Line trunk some of these days. If there is any probability that the Coast Line is going to build from Raleigh to Charlotte, it is a foregone conclusion that the line will be completed from Spring Hope to Raleigh. That is both logical and probable. This would give the Coast Line a continuous road running from Norfolk by way of Raleigh to Charlotte, and it is among the very strong probabilities that time will prove that such a line will be constructed. If signs now point to it, Raleigh and Charlotte may as well count on that line's going right straight on to Atlanta. The South has just commenced to build railroads, and the trunk line hinted at here is one of the most likely possibilities on the railroad map. The next move on the railroad checkerboard may be in that direction.

WILMINGTON, THAT'S ALL.

It is mighty clever of the esteemed Raleigh Times to take note of the inevitable so far as it concerns the port and city of Wilmington. Wilmington's commercial position is becoming so insistently conspicuous that the wideawake Times is constrained to remark about it in this fashion:

"Apropos of nothing it may be said that Wilmington is destined to be the wholesale center of this section of the country, if the opinion of persons who ought to know is worth anything. With the completion of the Panama canal, the deepening of the channel of the Cape Fear and other inland improvements, Wilmington will not only be North Carolina's chief seaport, but will rival other Southern ports in point of business. Keep your eye on Wilmington."

The Times has it down right. Wilmington has more natural advantages than any city we ever saw, and the facilities and enterprise to avail of those advantages is all that is necessary to bring about great achievements for North Carolina's ocean gateway city. Every city and manufacturing and business center in North Carolina should be deeply concerned in developing the State's seaport, for the gateway to the ocean through the Cape Fear is but one of the facilities for complete development of the manufacturing and business interests of every city in North Carolina. The thirty-foot channel which North Carolina is to have at Wilmington and upon which work is progressing, will do more to secure transportation justice for North Carolina than all the rulings of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. In fact, deep water at Wilmington is the one thing needed by the Commission in order to enable it to exercise its full powers in giving relief to the freight burdened manufacturing, business and agricultural interests of this State.

The port of Wilmington is the one great hope of all North Carolina, for the State must have its own port for the export and import facilities that are absolutely necessary to energize the productive forces of the various sections of the State. We are not expressing a selfish view when we say that North Carolinians from the sea to the mountains can do a great constructive work by taking hold of Wilmington and making the most of it as an asset. This port belongs to North Carolina and she ought to see that it offers to all her interests the amplest facilities for their complete development.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Mr. Justice may be after Senator Overman's job, but we are afraid he will be a long time getting it.—Durham Herald.

Of the "Seven Little Governors" who insisted that Roosevelt run for the Presidency, each one who offers for office was defeated and the State of only one gave the colonel only a bare plurality.—Richmond Journal.

The trains over the Broadway-Lillington extension of the Atlantic & Western Railway are now operated to a point within about a mile and a half of Lillington. Mr. Edwards and his force have not finished work on the big cut near Lillington. When this is finished trains can run through to the county seat of Harnett.—Sanford Express.

Notwithstanding Roosevelt carried Pennsylvania by some 48,000 plurality, the Democrats will likely have first place on the ballot next year. Returns now filed at Harrisburg from 39 of the 67 counties give Roosevelt 120,380 Washington party votes, 13,801 Bull Moose, and 10,841 Progressive votes. If the percentages are maintained, the Progressive Democratic vote will only be exceeded by that of any one party supporting Mr. Roosevelt.—Chester (Pa.) Republican.

It is being hinted that Senator Overman will have opposition two years from now, but we doubt it. Mr. Overman will not be in the State who is conceded to be stronger, if as strong, as Governor Kitchen was, and Senator Overman is about in a class with Mr. Simmons when it comes to power. There are more ramifications in politics, if you will take our unsupported word for it, than there are in the defense of Constantinople, and the man who defeats a good servant is an exception.—Raleigh Times.

The Board of Trade met Tuesday night at the Hineshaw building, Mr. E. M. Hineshaw presiding. The most important subject discussed probably was the demand for a canning factory for the manufacture also of elder, apple butter, etc., by which it is hoped to utilize all of the inferior fruit of this country, which has been, on account of the knocking out of the market by the canning industry, waste in many instances according to complaints made at the time prohibition was agitated, and since then. We do not know any enterprise that would more nearly fill a real demand than one to work up and save this waste. The man or men who bring that about should wear a crown upon his forehead.—North Wilkesboro Hustler.

"CRIME SEWER" DRAINED.

Canal Yields Ghastly Roll of Slaughtered Victims.

Indianapolis, Nov. 19.—Four bodies have been uncovered, three of them today, by the receding waters of the canal, known to the police as "the crime sewer," which is being drained. The first body given up was that of an unidentified baby, only a few days old. A brick fastened about its neck with a ribbon was murder proof to Coroner Durham.

Blanche Kimple, a negro, 17 years old, of Peoria, Ill., was another victim. She had been missing from the home of a relative only a few days. The police learned that a negro woman was on a bridge, near a bridge, where her body was found, by two foreigners. A hole in her head seems to indicate that she was murdered.

William Phebus, another victim, is believed to have fallen into the canal accidentally. Another body, of a man, showing no marks of violence, has not been identified.

The canal is 12 miles long and three miles of it passes through a negro settlement. Many bodies are taken from the water each year.

Under the act of Congress of June, 1879, and subsequent amendments, 23,527 disabled soldiers and sailors have been furnished artificial limbs or apparatus or have received compensation in money.

WANTED TYPIST KILLED.

Witness Marked for Murder by Dynamiter, Goes on the Stand, Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—Miss Mary C. Dye, a stenographer, who witnesses had said was marked for murder by James B. McNamara, the Los Angeles Times dynamiter, because she worked for the Iron Workers' Union and "knew too much" testified at the "Dynamite Conspiracy" trial today. She asserted she had been followed by detectives and on one occasion one of the McNamara brothers had forced an entrance to her room at a hotel to search for papers which he desired to destroy.

Miss Dye identified hundreds of letters introduced by the government to sustain its contention that Frank M. Ryan, president of the union, and the 44 other defendants conspired to transport explosives illegally in furtherance of dynamite plots against non-union firms. The letters were written by John J. McNamara, secretary of the union.

The witness testified she quit the employ of the Iron Workers before the Los Angeles explosion, but she had written many letters which the government charges were in furtherance of earlier explosions.

"Soon after I left, a boy at the door of my room in a hotel at midnight, called out he had a telegram," said Miss Dye, "but when I opened the door John J. McNamara, much excited, forced himself in. He demanded certain papers of which I knew nothing. Then he searched my desk and departed. In going over the letters at the office, I had seen a letter in which it was stated somebody was going to 'snitch' or give away information unless money was forthcoming."

The government contends that the informant referred to was Herbert S. Hokin, who is now on trial and that Hokin had already told of the hiding of nitro-glycerine at Rochester, Pa., and at Muncie, Ind.

On his flight back from Los Angeles, after causing the explosion there, James B. planned to have Miss Dye put to death and wanted Frank Eckhoff, of Cincinnati, to do it, according to Eckhoff's testimony. Eckhoff said he refused to carry out the plot, but he followed Miss Dye to Pittsburg, where she went to live.

City Engineer Will Advise for Bids
For Extensions to Sewerage System—Action Taken by Council Yesterday

In special session yesterday at noon, the City Council adopted a resolution authorizing the city engineer to advertise for bids for constructing the extensions to the present municipal sewerage system in the northern, eastern and southern sections of the city. The advertisement will be inserted immediately and the bids will be opened in about 30 days. Plans and specifications have already been prepared for the extensions. The improvements will cost in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Mention was made in yesterday's paper that Col. J. L. Ludlow, engineer of the State Board of Health, had given permission to proceed with the improvements as outlined without compelling the construction of an intercepting sewer at this time. Councilman B. C. Moore and Mr. F. F. Pillet, city engineer, appeared before Colonel Ludlow at Winston-Salem Tuesday and put before him the entire matter, explaining that if the city was compelled to put in the intercepting sewer now there would be no money left with which to extend the sewerage system to the parts of the city that need it so badly. Colonel Ludlow went over the entire matter with the representatives of this city, who secured his permission to make the extensions and later put down the intercepting sewer. Councilman Moore and Mr. Pillet returned to the city yesterday morning. Councilman Moore said that Colonel Ludlow in granting the permission stated that he did so because it appeared to be the best thing to be done. He said that later the intercepting sewer would have to be put down so as to carry the sewage to a point below the city, or the water intake will have to be moved farther up the river. Councilman B. C. Moore explained to Colonel Ludlow that it is the purpose of the Council to ask the Legislature for authority to hold a bond election to secure funds with which to build the intercepting sewer.

The following resolution, offered by Councilman B. C. Moore and seconded by Councilman Perdue, was unanimously adopted:

"Resolved, by the Council that permission having been given by the State Board of Health to construct extensions to the present sewer system under plans drawn by the city engineer, that the city engineer be instructed and authorized to advertise for 30 days for bids for doing such work under such submitted plans, or any part thereof, all such bids being subject to approval or rejection by the Council."

The contemplated improvements are best told in the report of the city engineer to the Council, read at the special session, which is as follows:

"To the Honorable Mayor and Members of the Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit for your consideration plan and estimate of sewer extensions contemplated by the city of Wilmington. The sewer lines as planned are shown on the accompanying map, which is attached to the city where surface closets are located as shown by the records in the office of the superintendent of health, and in some cases extend beyond the territory now reached by water mains, but such points can be easily reached by extensions of the water mains for two or three blocks.

"The territory to be covered is divided by natural or artificial means into three distinct sections:

"First, That lying between the A. C. L. and S. A. L. Railway cuts extending from the river to Ninth street, which will be known as the Northern section. This section is almost entirely built up and I would recommend that the entire system in it be built as planned.

"Second, Eastern: That part which finds a natural outlet along the line of Macomber's ditch extending from 17th street on the east to the present sewer system on the west, and from Oakdale cemetery on the north to Meares street on the south. This section is not to be built in its entirety but the mains being laid, extensions can be made at a small cost as developments of property proceeds.

"Third, Southern section: Lying between Queen street on the north, the river on the west, Greenfield from the river to Fifth street; thence diagonally through the blocks to Tenth and Wright on the south, and Tenth street on the east.

"The following disposal to be made of the sewage: Northern section: Outfall to be at the foot of Harnett street, course to be Harnett from the river to Front street; thence following the S. A. L. cut to Smith; thence along Smith to Ninth; thence on Ninth street from Smith to Bladen to be of sufficient capacity to take care of the sewage from the northern section and from the eastern section which will be pumped into it at Ninth and Bladen.

FOUNDERS OF PYTHIAN ORDER

THE DISTINGUISHED PYTHIANS

Party Arrives Here This Morning from Goldsboro—Rally in This City Tonight—Meeting at Goldsboro Last Night

Wilmington will have the pleasure of entertaining today a party of distinguished Pythians, members of both the Supreme Lodge of the United States and the Grand Lodge of North Carolina, who will complete here tonight a tour of the State with the celebrated Founders or Rathbone Bible, upon which at each place visited there have been obligated a number of candidates for membership in the order.

The party will arrive on the morning train from Goldsboro where a great rally of the Pythians of that section was held last night and after being entertained by the local lodges at a number of functions today, the party will be present tonight for a grand rally of all the Wilmington lodges in Pythian Castle Hall, on the third floor of the Murchison National Bank building. Members of the Wilmington lodges have had arrangements under way for several weeks for entertaining the distinguished Pythians and it goes without saying that they will receive a royal reception here, the home, so to speak, of Pythianism in the State. Supreme and State officers who will be present, are: Grand Chancellor Walker Taylor, of Wilmington; Supreme Keeper of Records and Seal Fred L. Wheaton; Supreme Master of Exchequer T. D. Meares, of Wilmington; Supreme Representative J. L. Scott, Jr., of Graham; Grand Vice Chancellor Joe Fridgen, of Durham; Grand Outer Guard J. W. Brittain, of Raleigh; Past Grand Chancellor George L. Hackney, of Lexington; Past Grand Chancellor W. C. Crisp, of Winston.

The contemplated improvements are best told in the report of the city engineer to the Council, read at the special session, which is as follows:

"To the Honorable Mayor and Members of the Council:

Gentlemen:—I herewith submit for your consideration plan and estimate of sewer extensions contemplated by the city of Wilmington. The sewer lines as planned are shown on the accompanying map, which is attached to the city where surface closets are located as shown by the records in the office of the superintendent of health, and in some cases extend beyond the territory now reached by water mains, but such points can be easily reached by extensions of the water mains for two or three blocks.

"The territory to be covered is divided by natural or artificial means into three distinct sections:

"First, That lying between the A. C. L. and S. A. L. Railway cuts extending from the river to Ninth street, which will be known as the Northern section. This section is almost entirely built up and I would recommend that the entire system in it be built as planned.

"Second, Eastern: That part which finds a natural outlet along the line of Macomber's ditch extending from 17th street on the east to the present sewer system on the west, and from Oakdale cemetery on the north to Meares street on the south. This section is not to be built in its entirety but the mains being laid, extensions can be made at a small cost as developments of property proceeds.

"Third, Southern section: Lying between Queen street on the north, the river on the west, Greenfield from the river to Fifth street; thence diagonally through the blocks to Tenth and Wright on the south, and Tenth street on the east.

"The following disposal to be made of the sewage: Northern section: Outfall to be at the foot of Harnett street, course to be Harnett from the river to Front street; thence following the S. A. L. cut to Smith; thence along Smith to Ninth; thence on Ninth street from Smith to Bladen to be of sufficient capacity to take care of the sewage from the northern section and from the eastern section which will be pumped into it at Ninth and Bladen.

"Eastern section: Main to follow line of Macomber's ditch, sewage to be collected at Moore and Bay streets and from there pumped into northern section, main at Ninth and Bladen finding ultimate disposal at foot of Harnett street.

"Southern section: Outfall of main sewers at foot of Greenfield and Wright streets.

"In no case is any treatment of sewage provided for.

"The cost of the intercepting sewer is not included in the estimate except that part which is included in the northern section system.

"The total number of feet of sewer contemplated is 152,000 or about 36 miles.

THOS. D. MEARES, ESQ.,
Supreme Master of Exchequer, Knights of Pythias of United States.

State Deputy Grand Chancellor J. D. Nutt, of Wilmington; and others including Rev. John H. Dickenson, Past Grand Chancellor, and Imperial Sheik of the D. O. K. K., one of the most gifted orators of the order. All lodges in the neighboring territory of Wilmington are urged to send representatives, if they have not already done so. There will be a large class for initiation here and these will be obligated on the original Rathbone Bible with which the party has made a notable tour of the State. A telegram last night from Goldsboro states that the meeting there was most successful and enthusiastic and that it was largely attended.

The series of rallies began at Charlotte on Monday night and included Greensboro, Goldsboro and this city. The rally in this city will be featured by the re-organization of Germania Lodge and the initiation of the large class of candidates from the several lodges who will have the honor of being obligated on the original Rathbone Bible.

Besides the initiation of large classes of candidates another feature of the meetings will be an illustrated lecture in the Page rank. The pictures that will be used in telling the wonderful story of Damon and Pythias are photographed from life, and the costumes are classically correct.

William B. C. Moore is happy over the thought that in a comparatively short time now practically all of the city will be provided with sewerage connections.

SERIOUS WRECK ON COASTLINE

Engineer C. M. Weathers Slightly Injured and Porter and Fireman of Pay Train Killed on Norfolk District Yesterday.

Engineer C. M. Weathers, of this city, was slightly injured and the colored porter and fireman of Atlantic Coast Line pay train, operated as Extra 28, were killed in a serious wreck on the Norfolk district of the A. C. L., at the 72-mile siding, between Kelford and Aulander, N. C., yesterday evening, shortly after 6 o'clock. The engine and four cars of the pay train were demolished and burned, but the pay car itself was not damaged, and all funds are reported safe.

The first news of the wreck reached Coast Line headquarters in this city soon after its occurrence, and Mrs. Weathers was at once notified, and with Miss Margaret Graham, a trained nurse and friend of the family, will leave on the early train this morning for Rocky Mount to which point Capt. Weathers was at once taken for hospital treatment. Particulars of the wreck were hard to ascertain, but the best information is that the pay train ran into the rear of a through extra freight train, apparently for the lack of protection.

Porter Harrison Bryan was instantly killed, and fireman John Samuels was not found, the presumption being that he was under the debris. Both are colored. No others were injured. The freight train was setting off cars at what is known as the 72-mile siding and the presumption is, though nothing is given out by railroad officials, that the freight was not properly protected.

A wrecking train was immediately dispatched to the scene from Rocky Mount, and it is hoped to have the line clear by early this morning.

Four cars of the freight train are reported to be derailed, and the track torn up for some distance.

MR. JOE WINSTEAD INJURED

Buggy in Which He Was Riding Struck by Street Car Yesterday.

Mr. Joe Winstead, a well known merchant of this city, was slightly injured yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock at Ninth and Princess streets, when a buggy in which he was driving was struck by a suburban car No. 53, of the Tidewater Power Co. Mr. Winstead attempted to cross in front of the car when the vehicle in which he was riding was struck by the car and he was thrown out with some violence, suffering a sprained ankle and a few minor bruises. He was taken on board the car and taken to Fifth and Princess streets where Dr. John C. Wessell gave him the necessary attention. It is not thought that his injuries will inconvenience him for more than a few days. It is understood that he attaches no blame for the accident to the crew of the car which struck him.

DECLARED NOT GUILTY

Mr. J. M. Woolard Exonerated of a Charge of Larceny

Mr. J. M. Woolard, a well known contractor, was found not guilty by Substitute Recorder George Harless yesterday of a charge of larceny of the body until the arrival of an officer, but so far has failed. It was said that Coast Line officials here promised to the negro before the jury yesterday afternoon, but he did not appear. Dr. Akerman, the acting coroner, expects to begin putting persons in jail today if they fail to appear after being summoned.

NORWEGIAN BARQUE ARRIVES

Simeira Completes Four Months' Trip From South American West Coast. The Norwegian barque Simeira, Capt. Spielburg, arrived yesterday at quarantine from Lobos de Afuera, on the west coast of South America, with cargo of Peruvian guano to be discharged at the Seaboard Air Line terminals. The Simeira sailed for this port on August 1st, and completed the trip around the Horn, a long and difficult one, in a little less than four months.

This is the first vessel of the kind to make the trip here in several years. After remaining in quarantine for two or three days the Simeira will come up the river and discharge her cargo at the S. A. L. terminals. Messrs. Heide & Co. are agents for the vessel.

BODY STILL UNIDENTIFIED

Coroner's Jury Endeavors to Clear Up Mystery of Tuesday Morning's Murder of Negro—Meets Again Today.

Although the body had been viewed by several hundred negroes at the undertaking establishment of Mr. W. W. King, the identity of the negro who was murdered on the Newbern branch of the A. C. L., just beyond the city limits, early Tuesday morning, has not been established and despite the probing of the coroner's jury the murder is as much a mystery as it was the morning the body was found. Three sessions of the coroner's jury were held yesterday and last night and another meeting will be held this afternoon.

Practically nothing of consequence was adduced from the investigation yesterday. Some developments are promised today. It was said last night that officers who first visited the scene of the murder found blood stains on the porch of a negro house a short distance away. The children at the home at the time said that some hogs had been killed there the day before and the blood was from the hogs. The coroner's jury will investigate this matter this morning. The jury will also make an effort to locate Rachel Murphy, of East Wilmington, whose name is signed to a letter that was picked up near the scene of the killing on the morning of the homicide. The letter was addressed to N. M. Holmes. While the letter may not have any bearing at all on the case, members of the jury think it advisable to follow up every possible clue.

The proceedings of the coroner's jury yesterday was featured by the testimony of Bessie Newkirk, a colored girl of more than average intelligence. She testified at the afternoon session that while she could not be positive she believed the body she had seen at the undertaker's to be that of Arthur Alexander Nixon, whom she had seen quite frequently near where she is employed as a cook at Ninth and Orange streets. While busy in her employer's kitchen last night she happened to look out the window. Imagine her feelings when she saw Arthur Alexander Nixon walking through the alley. It was enough to frighten a white person, much less a negro. Her fright soon turned to joy, when she was satisfied that she was looking on a live being and not a ghost, for there is a suspicion that she thinks right much of Arthur. So last night she reappeared before the coroner's jury and brought with her the Arthur Alexander Nixon, whom she thought was dead. She was glad to correct her testimony given at the afternoon session. As she left the Court House she remarked to the jury that it had been trying day on her and that her nerves were so shattered that she could hardly get about.

There was a report last night that possibly the dead man was William Burnett, who had been sentenced to the county roads. Dr. Akerman, a member of the jury went to the county road on Wrightsville Sound and found that Burnett was not missing. The coroner has been trying to get Elliott Anderson, colored, of the A. C. L. section gang, who watched over the body until the arrival of an officer, but so far has failed. It was said that Coast Line officials here promised to the negro before the jury yesterday afternoon, but he did not appear. Dr. Akerman, the acting coroner, expects to begin putting persons in jail today if they fail to appear after being summoned.

The jury re-assembled at 3 o'clock to continue its investigation of the case. J. D. McLain, a young white man, who is employed at the power house of the Tidewater Power Co., and lives at No. 512 Red Cross street, was the first witness. A letter addressed to Mr. McLain was found by officers near where it is thought that the negro received the fatal wound. The letter was postmarked Birmingham, Ala., and was dated September 25th, 1912, and from the postmark it was evidently from a relative of the young man. The purpose of calling Mr. McLain as a witness was to ascertain, if possible, how the letter came to be at the place it was found. Mr. McLain could shed no light on the matter. He said that he was up the Newbern road some four or six weeks ago hunting, but had not been up there since. The letter found near the scene of the murder and addressed to Mr. McLain was shown to him and he stated that he remembered having read it, but did not remember when he saw it last. The letter, he said, was not given to any one. He was

Dear Amy:—

It is a mistake to think that old furniture is comfortable; it isn't. You don't feel comfortable sitting in a tacky, old, worn out chair. I haven't any furniture in my house that I'm ashamed of. If I did I'd sell it to the second-hand man and buy new; wouldn't you?

P. S.—Of course, I wouldn't go to just any sort of a place, to buy. I would go only to the best furniture store in town, and that store is kept by

PRETTY WEDDING AT THE CHURCH OF GOOD SHEPHERD.
Attended by a large assemblage of relatives and friends, Mr. A. Gordon Brittain and Miss Beulah Edlin Beery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Beery, were happily married in the Church of the Good Shepherd at 9 o'clock last night, Rev. Thos. P. Noe, the rector, performing the ceremony. It was one of the prettiest weddings that have ever been performed at this church. The decorations were bamboo, ferns and cut flowers and the chancel was brilliantly lighted with candles. The music was skillfully rendered by Miss Lillian Bell Hewlett.

First to enter the church was Miss Beulah Grosbeck, Chester, S. C., first bridesmaid, followed by the second bridesmaid, Miss Lila May Aman, of Richlands, the maid of honor, Miss Hazel Thomas, of Chester; the ushers, Mr. Adrian Elvington, and Mr. William Otersen. Next came the bride on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The groom was accompanied by his best man, Mr. W. B. Beery, Jr., brother of the bride.

The bride was beautiful in a gown of white satin trimmed with pearls and real lace. She wore a veil with a wreath of lilies of the valley, and carried a bouquet of bride roses. The maid of honor wore pink Marquisette over pink mesalline with evening cap caught with rhinestone buckle. The first bridesmaid was gowned in white crepe de chine over white mesalline with pearl trimmings and the second bridesmaid wore white chiffon over pink mesalline. Their bouquets were white and pink carnations caught up with pink tulle.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the home of the bride's parents, No. 406 South Sixth street, where an elaborate and highly enjoyable reception was given. The home was beautifully decorated with bamboo, ferns and pink tulle. Pink and white ribbon was suspended from the ceiling to the corner of the dining table, where the bride's cake was cut. Punch was served in the hall under a large white and pink bell. The event was attended by 200 or more guests.

The popularity of the couple was attested by the large number of beautiful and costly wedding presents, which they received. Following the reception Mr. and Mrs. Brittain drove to No. 318 McRae street, where they will reside. Mr. Brittain is city salesman for the Coca-Cola Bottling Works and is a well known and popular young business man. WEDDING IN WINSTON-SALEM
OF INTEREST IN THIS CITY.

The following account of the wedding of Miss Ruth May Adams, of Winston-Salem, and Mr. Marshall Henshaw French, of this city, from yesterday's Winston-Salem Journal will be read with much interest by many friends in Wilmington:

"A beautiful wedding was solemnized last evening at 6:30 o'clock at the First Baptist church, when Miss Ruth May Adams, the lovely daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Adams, was united in marriage to Mr. Marshall Henshaw French, of Wilmington.

"The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns, palms and potted plants. Tall candles on white pedestals formed a pretty arch in front of the rostrum, where the happy young couple were united.

"Just before the ceremony Miss Pritchard, of Salem, sang: 'Because' in her rich contralto voice, accompanied on the organ by Miss Lilla Mallard.

"The bridal party entered the church to the impressive wedding march from Lohengrin, rendered by Miss Mallard. The ushers, Messrs. Harry Sharp, Nicholas Mitchell, C. T. Davis and Harry Early, entered first. The pretty little flower girls, Misses Helen Adams and Daisy Lee Glasgow, of Columbia, S. C., were daintily gowned in white over pink.

"The bridesmaids, Miss Lillian Crowe and Miss Gladys French, then entered, wearing beautiful white gowns draped with chiffon and carrying white and pink chrysanthemums. Miss Ruby Adams, sister of the bride, entered next, lovely in a pink silk gown and carrying a large bouquet of Killarney roses.

"The attractive little ring bearer, Miss Margaret Sharp, preceded the bride. She was daintily gowned in white and carried the ring in a bunch of pink rosebuds.

"The lovely bride entered with her father, Mr. O. F. Adams. She wore a beautiful gown of white, trimmed with chiffon and trimmed with the regulation wedding veil caught with orange blossoms. The bridal bouquet was of bride roses with a shower of lilies of the valley. The gift of the bridegroom was a handsome cameo pin surrounded with pearls.

"Mr. French, attended by his best man, Mr. James Thomas Burch, of Florence, S. C., met the bride at the center of the rostrum, where Rev. Dr. H. A. Brown performed the impressive ceremony.

"As a recessional Miss Mallard played Mendelssohn's 'Wedding March', when the bridal party left the church for the home of the bride's parents on Pine street.

"Delicious refreshments were served at the house, and amid a shower of congratulations and good wishes, Mr. and Mrs. French left on the 8:10 train for their wedding trip to interesting points in Florida.

"On their return they will make their home in Wilmington, where Mr. French is engaged in business.

"The out-of-town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. John French, Miss Gladys French; Mrs. Thomas Lewis, of Wilmington; Mrs. S. A. Adams, Mr. D. G. Styrum, Miss Emma Taylor, of Durham; Mrs. L. J. Glasgow and little daughter, Miss Daisy Lee Glasgow, of Columbia, S. C.; Mrs. L. A. McCall and little daughter, Josephine, of Florence, S. C.

yesterday afternoon of one of the most beautiful weddings of the season, when Miss Katherine Margaret Gleichen, the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mr. J. G. L. Gleichen, became the bride of Mr. E. F. O. Bank, a popular young business man of Wilmington. The church was thronged with admiring relatives and friends of the couple.

Just preceding the entrance of the bridal party Mrs. E. Schulken rendered several beautiful organ selections. The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin, was used as the processional and the bridal party entered the church in the following order: First came Miss Geline Mohr, who was first bridesmaid, followed by other bridesmaids and the ushers, Mr. L. H. Henson and Mr. Paul Dulis; Miss Hanson and Miss Katherine Mohr; Mr. Luther Wessell and Mr. W. F. Ortmann; Miss Louise Vollers and Miss Annie Tiencken; Mr. John Oldenbittel and W. C. Cronenberg. Then came Mrs. J. T. Runge, dame of honor, followed by two groomsmen, Mr. J. T. Runge and Mr. Charles Sutherland. Next came the maid of honor, Miss Augusta Gleichen, followed by the bride, who entered upon the arm of her father, who gave her away. They proceeded to the chancel where they were met by the groom and his best man, Mr. John D. Doscher, Jr. The ceremony was impressively performed by Rev. F. B. Clausen, pastor of the church, using the ring service. During the ceremony the organist rendered Traumerl.

The church was beautifully decorated by the well-known florist, Mr. Will Rehder, and indeed, presented a scene of beauty.

The bride wore a beautiful creation of white charmeuse satin trimmed with pearls and orange blossoms. Her exquisite veil of real lace was caught up with orange blossoms, the same wreath that was worn by her mother at her wedding. The only ornament was a diamond brooch, a gift of the groom. The bride carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was beautifully gowned in a pale-blue beaded chiffon tunic over blue charmeuse satin and carried a bouquet of pink Killarney roses. The dame of honor was handsomely attired in an embroidered and beaded robe over white satin trimmed in tiny pink and blue roses. She carried a bouquet of white and pink chrysanthemums. All of the gowns were in train.

Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party and family drove to the bride's home on Red Cross street, between Front and Second, where an informal reception was held while the bride and groom arranged for their departure on the northbound evening train for an extended trip through the Northern States. Upon their return an elaborate reception will be given the couple in the spacious hall of the Howard Relief Club, corner Front and Orange streets. The reception will be held December 4th.

Members of the wedding party were presented with beautiful pennants and scarf pins by the bride and groom. Many beautiful and costly wedding presents were received by the bride and groom from friends here and abroad, among the gifts being a very handsome silver service from the ushers and a substantial check from the bride's father.

The bride is the very popular and talented daughter of Mr. J. G. L. Gleichen, who is German Vice Consul at this port and also a member of the New Hanover County Board of Education. She is an accomplished young lady and has a wide circle of friends in this city and elsewhere.

The groom is the eldest son of Mrs. Otto Bank, of this city. Mr. Bank has been connected with the different banking institutions in Wilmington since he was a small boy. He began his career as a messenger in the Atlantic National Bank and moved along with his banking associates until the consolidation of the Wilmington National Bank with the Murchison National Bank, in which institution he held responsible positions he had gained through merit. When the American National Bank was organized the institution secured six securities and he now holds the position of teller in that bank. He is a very popular man with an exceedingly bright future in the financial world.

Mr. and Mrs. Bank will make their home at the residence of the bride's father, No. 166 Red Cross street.

MISS NELLIE DEEMS CORBETT
BRIDE OF MR. T. EDWIN BROWN

Charming for its simplicity in every arrangement, yet with elegant in all its environment, the wedding at a quarter after five o'clock yesterday afternoon of Miss Nellie Deems Corbett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael John Corbett, and Mr. Thomas Edwin Brown, both popular young society people of Wilmington, was an event of more than usual interest to a host of friends in this city and elsewhere throughout the State.

The wedding ceremony proper was witnessed only by members of the immediate families and a few close friends of the bride and groom, but this was followed by a large reception at which Mr. and Mrs. Brown were delighted to receive the felicitations of a great number of friends prior to their departure on the northbound Atlantic Coast Line train for a wedding trip North. Both the wedding and the reception were among the most notable functions of the early Autumn season in Wilmington society.

The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs.

Corbett, No. 119 South Fourth street, lent itself most delightfully to an elaborate decoration of plants and flowers, the color scheme of the wedding being a most pleasing blending of pink and white, which was carried out most effectively, the front parlors of the home, the library and the conservatory being most tastefully arranged for the reception of the large number of guests who called during the afternoon and evening.

The ceremony was according to the solemn and beautiful rites of the Catholic Church, the Reverend Father Christopher C. Dennen, assisted by the Rev. Father Hayden, of St. Mary's Pro-Cathedral, this city, and the Rev. Father Walsh, of New York, officiating. The bride's only attendant was her sister, Miss Margaret Corbett, as maid of honor, while Miss Catherine Corbett and Master William Corbett were most charming little flower children, both dressed in beautiful white, little Miss Corbett in white lingerie and carrying pink roses, and Master William in a suit of spotless white, both lending beauty and dignity to the charming affair. The bride entered with her father, Mr. M. J. Corbett, by whom she was given away, the groom being attended as best man by his brother, Mr. C. C. Brown, Jr., and his groomsmen, Messrs. Waddell Watters, Irving Corbett and E. C. Hines. The grouping at the altar was a most graceful one and the ceremony is described as having been one of the prettiest and most impressive ever witnessed in Wilmington. The wedding marches were played in exquisite touch by Prof. G. L. Johnson, organist of Saint James, accompanied on the violin by Prof. E. Barbey, who also furnished music for the altogether delightful reception which followed.

The bride was beautiful in a becoming wedding gown of white satin charmeuse with point lace, tulle veil caught with orange blossoms. She carried a lovely shower bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor was most attractive in a gown of pink charmeuse and carried pink chrysanthemums. The male attendants, of course, wore the conventional black with boutonnières of white and pink.

The ceremony, beautiful and impressive in its every detail, was immediately followed by the reception which was attended by several hundred prominent society people of Wilmington and elsewhere here for the wedding. The hours were from 5:30 to 7 o'clock and many took the occasion to felicitate the young couple upon their happy union for life. In the receiving party were Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Corbett, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Brown and members of the bridal party.

Punch and other delightful refreshments were served during the course of the evening and the guests were the recipients of dainty monogram boxes, containing portions of the wedding cake carrying its own silent invitation to "dream over" etc., according to the beautiful legend so well known.

The reception gave opportunity for the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Brown to measure the popularity of the bride and groom as so splendidly expressed in the large number of beautiful and handsome wedding gifts, these being both from Wilmington and elsewhere. Added to these were many telegrams of greeting from absent friends.

The reception concluded with the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Brown for the union station, whence they left amid a shower of rice and best wishes for their honeymoon trip, returning from which they will be at home at Carolina Heights after December 1st. Both the bride and groom are exceedingly popular in Wilmington society, the bride being the accomplished and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corbett and being much loved and admired for her many attractions of person and charm of manner. The groom is engaged in the brokerage business in Wilmington and belongs to one of the city's oldest and best families, a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Brown, now residing at Winter Park, a suburb of Wilmington. They carry with them on their honeymoon the very best wishes of many friends and admirers who will eagerly await their return and establishment of permanent residence in Wilmington.

Among those here for the wedding from away from Wilmington were Miss Jenkins, of Baltimore, a friend of the Misses Corbett; Mr. Irving Corbett, of Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., a brother of the bride, and Mr. C. C. Brown, Jr., a brother of the groom, of Florida.

The first of the 1913 calendars to be received is from the Southern National Bank. It presents a handsome lithograph of the home of the institution, a list of the officers and a recapitulation of the resources, assets, capitalization, etc., of the bank.

COTTON PRICES SAG SLIGHTLY EXPORT SALES RALLY WHEAT STOCK MOVEMENTS NARROW

Moderate Opening Advance Established New High Records, But Last Prices Showed Declines of From 1 to 12 Points

New York, Nov. 26.—A moderate opening advance established new high records for the movement in the cotton market this morning, but a sagging tendency soon developed as a result of evening up the revision of spot differences tonight, or the evening figures expected at the opening tomorrow, and while the closing tone was steady, last prices showed a decline of from 1 to 12 points.

The market opened steadily, at an advance of 1 to 5 points on overnight buying orders. Liverpool, however, was considerably lower than due, with private cable attributing the decline to free offerings of actual, and prices here soon turned easier under scattering liquidation and local selling for a reaction after the excited advance of the last two days. The market met good support around 12.20 for the spring months, as there appeared to be no change in the general character of Southern spot, and crop advice, and two or three times during the middle of the day the decline was checked around that level or about six or seven points under the closing figures of last night. Only slight rallies occurred, as each little bulge to about or a shade over the final figures of yesterday appeared to bring out an increased supply of long cotton, and the market during the afternoon broke to a spot low of from 8 to 13 points on the active months. Spot houses gave some support on this decline, which carried March contracts off to 12.17, comparing with 12.32 the early high level, and while subsequent fluctuations were nervous and irregular, the close was 5 or 6 points up from the lowest.

Spot closed steady. Middling upland, 12.40; do. gulf, 12.55. Sales, 200 bales. Cotton futures closed steady.

THE DRY GOODS MARKET.

New York, Nov. 26.—The cotton goods markets ruled strong with buying somewhat restricted through the stiffness of prices. Worsteds yarns have been bought liberally from spinners for deliveries running well into March of 1913. At a silk auction held during the day prices were fair and the distribution of 4,000 pieces was complete.

Trading for a Greater Part of the Session Was of a Professional Character—Tendency Was Mildly Reactionary

New York, Nov. 26.—

KINSTON TOBACCO MARKET.

Will Close in December—Shipments of Fish—Other News Notes.
Kinston, N. C., Nov. 20.—The Kinston tobacco market will close for the season on December 20th. The early closing of the market this year is due to the fact that the product was marketed early this season. There, of course, is some tobacco in the hands of the planters yet, but with the prevailing high prices this will soon be disposed of. Most of the buyers on the local market will go to Kentucky, where the season opens about the first of the year.

Unusually large fish shipments are responsible for delayed trains over the Norfolk Southern's lines during the past few days. The catches in the sounds recently have been the best of the season so far, and with the ready demand for the fish, carload shipments are being made daily from Morehead City and Beaufort, principally to western Carolina points.

Mr. J. A. McDaniel, for many years prominently identified with the business affairs of this city, has gone to St. Petersburg, Fla., where he and his family expect to make their home for several years. The change is made in the interest of Mrs. McDaniel's health, but Mr. McDaniel will continue to hold his interests in Kinston, where he will spend a good deal of his time. He has valuable real estate holdings here, and has for several years been one of the city's most influential residents.

The handsome Mitchell home on Mitchell avenue was the scene of one of the most brilliant and enjoyable social events of the year in Kinston, when, at an afternoon reception, Messrs. S. C. Stitterson and E. V. Ferrell, daughters of Mrs. A. Mitchell, entertained a large number of society folk. The occasion was in honor of Miss Iris Mitchell and her house guests. The affair was very elaborate, and has not been eclipsed by any similar event here in many months. In the hall, which was beautifully decorated with palms, ferns and Southern anthurus, was daintily little Miss Frances Pollock receiving cards, while in the rear hall screened by many ferns an orchestra dispensed music throughout the afternoon. Miss Zelle Cox greeted the callers, directing them to the cloak room, from which Mrs. Courtney Mitchell and Mrs. Harry Wooten ushered them to the parlor, where they were introduced by Mrs. Emmett Wooten to the receiving line. Here Mrs. A. Mitchell, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Stitterson, Mrs. Ferrell, Miss Mitchell, whose engagement was announced recently, Mrs. Wm. Ferrell and Messrs. A. and L. Goodwin greeted the callers, and with a background of pink chrysanthemums in profusion, the beautifully gowned women made a truly pleasing spectacle. Miss Mitchell, the charming bride-to-be, was handsomely attired in a gown of pale blue and wore an arduous of pink Killarney roses. Miss Griffith, Miss Sallie Pollock and Mrs. Marston next ushered the guests to the rear hall, where they were taken in charge by Mrs. U. C. Fields and Mrs. G. V. Cowper and escorted into the dining room. Resplendent in silk, velvet and numerous candles, which shed a soft light on the whole, the table, profusely decorated with yellow chrysanthemums, was a splendid scene. Pouring tea were Mrs. C. B. Woodley and Mrs. A. S. Copeland, while Mrs. Ellis and Miss Essie Miller dispensed chocolate and sandwiches. Cream and cake were served by Messrs. J. Carey and Paylor, Miss Allie Hines and Miss Lottie Kennedy. At the library door Mrs. Clyde Dunn and Mrs. Walter LaRoue greeted the guests, directing them to the punch bowl, graciously presided over by Mrs. Fred Taylor and Mrs. N. J. Rouse. Altogether, fully 150 friends called, unanimous in their expression of enjoyment of the delightful occasion.

STRIKERS QUIET

But Rifle Fire Keeps West Virginia Militia Anxious.
Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 20.—Occasional rifle fire directed from the hillsides into the West Coal district now under martial law today, kept the militia anxious. There were few developments of importance. Tonight none of these concerned in the militia movements today are optimistic.

At a number of isolated points where militia has not yet been sent, practically a condition of anarchy exists. Reports tell of bands of men traveling in dozens, boarding trains and putting passengers through a thorough inspection. A number of persons have been severely beaten, some of whom were innocent travelers.

Governor Glasscock is expected to announce soon the sentences passed yesterday by the military commission following the trial of the three men tried for intimidation of workmen and holding up passenger trains. A fourth case was tried and completed today, but nothing has been made public.

Reports are current tonight that the Federal government may make a hand in the situation. The Federal grand jury convened today and is said to have considered the matter of holding up trains carrying mail. It is even rumored that Federal troops may take a hand. Two carloads of men were sent into the strike district tonight. The train bearing the alleged strike breakers was heavily guarded, a detachment of militia with a machine gun being on board.

Only a Fire Hero.
but the crowd cheered, as, with burned hands, he held up a small round box. "Follows!" he shouted, "this Bucklen's Arnica Salve I hold has everything but for burns." Right! also for boils, ulcers, sores, pimples, eczema, cuts, sprains, bruises. Surest pile cure. It subdues inflammation, kills pain. Only 25 cents, at R. R. Bellamy's.

SUFFRAGETTES GATHER.

Hundreds of Delegates Arrive at Philadelphia for 44th Convention.
Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—Enthusiastic in the belief that their cause will triumph and that the privilege of the ballot will be granted women throughout the United States within the next few years, hundreds of delegates from all parts of the country arrived here today to participate in the 44th annual convention of the American Suffrage Association, which will open its sessions tomorrow.

Among the National officers here are James Laddlaw, secretary; Miss Jennie Ashley, treasurer; Mrs. Mary Ware Darnett, auditor, and Miss Susan Walker Fitzgerald, recording secretary. J. H. Briley, of the California Men's League, who is referred to as the "father of woman suffrage in California," and one of the few men delegates to the convention, said tonight that the voters of his State are intensely interested in the struggle being waged in the East in favor of woman's vote. He predicted that the efforts now being expended will before many years prove successful.

Dr. Anna Shaw, National president, declares that this convention "will give Philadelphia a big jolt in the right direction, and will help materially the suffrage campaign in Pennsylvania."

The convention, which will continue until next Tuesday, will be held in Witherspoon Hall, with two sessions daily, the afternoon meetings being devoted to business matters, while the night gatherings will be open to the public. During the week, talks will be given between acts at many theaters by prominent speakers from different sections of the country.

Preceding the opening session tomorrow afternoon the delegates will march from their headquarters to Independence Square, where an open air meeting will be addressed by distinguished advocates of equal rights for women.

Dr. Anna Shaw, president of the National association, will preside at the first session of the convention. Mayor Blankenberg will welcome the delegates to the city, and Mrs. Ellen H. Price, president of the Pennsylvania Suffrage Association, will extend the welcome in behalf of that organization. Tomorrow night has been designated "Campaign Night," with speakers from 10 suffrage States. Jane Adams, of Chicago, will preside, and National President Shaw will deliver her annual address. Friday night has been set apart for them.

Miss M. Carey Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr College, will be in the chair Saturday night, which will be designated "College Night," and college women will speak both for and against equal suffrage. There will be a mass meeting Sunday afternoon at the Metropolitan Opera House. Monday night's session will be addressed by Baroness von Suttner, of Austria.

MYSTERY IS UNRAVELING.

Chicago Police Learn Identity of Murdered Woman—Arrest Soon.
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 20.—That Mrs. Emma Kraft of this city, was the woman who was killed in a Chicago hotel last Thursday, that the police know the name of a man who was formerly engaged to marry Mrs. Kraft and who is known to have borrowed $500 from her and whom they suspect of having killed her, and that every policeman and detective in this city has been ordered to watch for this man, were today's developments in the mystery that for six days had puzzled Chicago police.

Mrs. Kraft, who was 60 years old, was known to have recently sold property in this city amounting to $4,870, and the police believe she had part of this money in her possession just previous to her death. This leads to the theory of robbery as a motive, according to the police, although they claim that it is possible that the man who shot Mrs. Kraft because she had threatened to prosecute him for the money she claimed to have loaned him, when the two were engaged. The man the police have in mind is prominent in this city, and was seen here on last election day. Nothing is known to the police of his whereabouts since that time, but chief of Detectives Crawford, of this city, late today said it was only a matter of hours before the authorities would lay their hands on the man.

In the meantime his name and description has been sent to the police of Chicago and the hunt has been taken up there.

Recognition of Mrs. Kraft's umbrella led to the positive identification of her clothes, by a niece and the latter's daughter.

Chicago, Nov. 20.—A warrant for the alleged slayer of Emma Kraft, of Cincinnati, is in the hands of the Chicago detective department. Capt. John J. Halpin said today that the suspect has been under surveillance for several days and his arrest is near.

Mrs. Jacob Hoffman, of this city, said to be a sister of the dead woman, is sought by the police to confirm the identification.

CARMITHOMPSON APPOINTED

Succeeds Treasurer McClung—Hill Returns to White House.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 20.—Carmithompson, the President's secretary, was appointed Treasurer of the United States today to succeed Lee McClung, who resigned recently. Charles D. Hill, who was secretary to the President before the beginning of the last campaign, will return to that position.

Secretary MacVeagh tonight appointed the following committee to count the money and securities of the treasury to verify the accounts of the retiring treasurer, Mr. McClung: E. B. Daskam, chief of the public money division; A. T. Huntington, chief of the Loans and Currency division, and Leon Isaacson, of Ironton, Ohio.

Mr. Isaacson will represent the new treasurer in the count, while the interests of Mr. McClung will be looked after by J. O. Manson, of the treasurer's office.

This will be the greatest count of money and securities in all history. It is estimated that Mr. McClung's liabilities will approach close to $1,500,000,000, for which Mr. Thompson must give a receipt. The count will require at least two months.

ALLOW NO DEMONSTRATION.

Authorities Take Precautions to Control Crowd.
Salem, Mass., Nov. 20.—City Marshal Lehan today completed plans to prevent any outbreak or demonstration when the jury returns a verdict in the trial of Joseph J. Etor, Arturo Giovannitti, and Joseph Caruso, who are charged with the murder of Anna Lopizzo during the textile strike in Lawrence last winter.

Owing to the circulation of incendiary literature, much of it among the foreign workers in this vicinity, criticizing the trial of the defendants, and to a previous demonstration at the court house several weeks ago, police will be stationed around the court house and in streets approaching it to prevent the assembling of crowds, and no overcrowding of the court room will be permitted. Many persons were turned away today because of lack of room in the court house.

When court adjourned tonight, it seemed probable that the closing arguments and Judge Quinn's charge to the jury would not be completed until some time Friday.

Etor, the strike leader, was pictured to the jury today in the summing up by his counsel, J. P. Mahoney, as a man to be commended instead of condemned. He declared his client the victim of a conspiracy of employers.

"He as a leader who talked to the workers of Lawrence in the interest of humanity—a worthy purpose—should receive the commendation instead of the condemnation of the community," said Mr. Mahoney.

"Etor may have expressed views on the witness stand with which you do not agree. He honestly expressed them, made no effort to hide them, but I say with emphasis that we are trying this man upon his views, but on his acts."

Mr. Mahoney argued that there had not been introduced in evidence one word of a violent nature spoken directly by Etor to the Lawrence strikers.

The whole case, counsel maintained, was based upon testimony of policemen and newspaper reporters. Mr. Mahoney will continue his argument tomorrow.

BRYAN ENTERS DENIAL

Has No Intention of Visiting Wilson in Bermuda, He Says.
Waycross, Ga., Nov. 20.—"I have never conferred with Governor Wilson since the election, and have never discussed with him at any time, any person in connection with any office, and I have no intention of going to Bermuda."

This answer was made tonight by William J. Bryan, in response to numerous messages regarding reports published today that he proposed to visit the President-elect in connection with a cabinet appointment.

The public knows that Governor Wilson has gone to Bermuda to rest and that he is not selecting a cabinet," added Colonel Bryan.

"They ought to let him do the selecting and not spend their time in guessing. If they do guess I see no reason why I should spend my time discussing their guesses."

Colonel Bryan, accompanied by his wife, is en route to Miami, Fla., where they will spend tomorrow night.

REVISES COTTON DIFFERENCES.

New York Exchange Committee Makes Slight Changes.
New York, Nov. 20.—The November meeting of the New York Cotton Exchange Committee on the revision of spot cotton differences was held after the close of business tonight.

The only changes made in the differences between grades as applied to deliveries on New York contracts was a slight increase in the penalties on two of the low grades, strict low middling, changed from 80 to 85 points instead of 80, and low middling tinged at 200 points instead of 190.

There will be a meeting of the revision committee in February under the provisions of the amended by-laws, and the differences fixed tonight will remain in force until that meeting.

CASH REGISTER CASES

Jury Completed For Trial of 30 On Criminal Indictments.
Cincinnati, Nov. 20.—After the dismissal of the entire second regular venire summoned in the cases of John H. Patterson and 29 other officials or former officials of the National Cash Register Company, of Dayton, Ohio, a jury was completed late today from 12 men, who had been called for jury service by Judge Howard Hollister personally, with the consent of both sides.

The charge against the 30 accused men is that they violated the criminal section of the Sherman anti-trust act. The court refused to state why it had dismissed the second venire, but admitted that it was at the request of both the government and the defense.

Of the extra 12 men summoned, six were examined and two peremptory challenges were exercised before the counsel for both sides agreed that they were satisfied. Each had left an additional peremptory challenge which was exercised.

Court was adjourned after Attorney Harrison for the government announced that he would be ready to present government's case when the trial resumed tomorrow morning and that this presentation would consume not less than two hours' time.

Attorneys for the defense also stated that they would be ready to make their statement at the conclusion of the government's presentation and it is considered probable that the hearing of testimony may be commenced before the adjournment tomorrow.
